Black History

In our PSHE lessons we learnt about an incredible woman called Mary Seacole. She was a British/ Jamaican nurse who broke social prejudices to help those in need in the Crimean War. We played a game where we had to know facts about her life, did some reading and writing about her and produced some abstract art of her portrait.