Art

In Art we are looking at the contemporary artist John Stezaker. He created simple and effective collages by blending different faces together. The children had a go at creating a collage using their own face. They had a lot of fun doing this and there was lots of laughter at the faces being produced.

