

Science Week

The theme for science week this year is 'curiosity'. Ash class were curious about how many marbles could fit in a paper boat before it sank. We explored different boat designs and listened carefully to the instructions for how to make them.

