

The most annoying animal in the world,

Is not the slug with its body uncurled.

Not the cat - scratching, begging and prowling.

Or the owl with its ear-splitting howling.

Fleur

You'd think the filthy fly with its dreary drone,
The world will agree that it makes us moan.
It's got the dirtiest body you've ever seen,
And the ugliest appearance there ever has been. Emma

Not the scheming treasure hunting in the day,

Of the vulture flying down on its prey.

The mosquito that can kill you with just one sting,

The elephant that can crush you in one swing.

Lily

But much more irritating than all of these,
Is the mini moszi extracting your blood with ease.
Like a blood-sucking vampire darting around,
Bleeding millions and feeling immensely proud.

Nathan

It's worse than a dog with a slobbery lick,

And flies that you can annihilate with one flick.

Devastatingly, it will always claim your ice-cream,

Even when you swerve, swing and screechingly scream. Anamae
