Take 10 Reading - World Record Attempt!

We had an exciting day today as we took part in a Guinness World Record attempt! We enjoyed listening to a webinar with children's author Frank Cottrell-Boyce who talked to us about his role in creating screen plays and writing children's book. Then, we all took 10 minutes to read our favourite books from home. Lots of other children across the country and around the world were reading at the same time too. We had to record and send off our results - fingers crossed we make it into the record books!
