

In Art we've been learning about colours and the emotions they evoke. Here, we used oil-based crayons and the warm happy colours of red, yellow and orange watercolours to create these beautiful sunset pictures. We hope you think our developing blending skills have resulted in some amazing final pieces.

