

Good morning Year 1 ☺

23rd April 2020

Well done if you solved the riddle on yesterday's challenge sheet. The answer was 'Are you asleep?' ☺
Remember reading is really important so please try to read daily for at least 10 minutes. Please check out this website to access over 6,000 digital books. The website is really easy to use and you can browse books by category.

To sign in, use the username 'march20' and password 'home' to sign in.

Reading

Please read chapter 4 of 'Ned and the Jungle Animals' on Purple Mash and complete the activities I have set that are related to the story. I wonder what Ned will see today? Maybe you could make a prediction before reading the chapter? You will find Chapter 4 and the activities in your '2Dos' on Purple Mash.

Maths

We are counting on and back today. Please click on the link below and select 'Count On & Back' then choose an appropriate challenge (you will need to turn your sound on).

Challenge: Can you record some of the questions as number sentences in your exercise book?

Writing

After completing the topic challenge, imagine you could now interview one of these woodland animals. Write some questions you would ask. Don't forget your question marks!

Topic

Have a look at the website below and with help from an adult, read about some of the animals that live in the woodland.

Random Act of Kindness

Help an adult prepare for lunch or dinner. Maybe you could set the table today?

Key Skills

Ask an adult to say a number between 1 and 100. How quickly can you say one more and one less than the given number? Repeat with more numbers.

Think of the day: 'If you took the stripes off a zebra, what colour would the zebra be? (a think is something that makes you think)
