

Forces

We have been learning all about forces over the past few weeks, including magnetic forces. We have completed a number of different investigations involving push and pulls and contact and non-contact forces. The children particularly enjoyed learning about magnetic forces and exploring objects with different magnets.

