

Friday 30th January

We've been enjoying some hands-on learning during our History lessons over the past few weeks. We were lucky enough to get our hands on these Roman artefacts from the Library Services. We spent some time exploring them and made predictions about what they could be used for, then found out what they were actually used for. Some were used as cutlery and toothpicks and another was by Ancient Romans after they had been to the toilet!

