

Science- Rock Detectives Workshop

Today we had a visit from the Library Services who delivered a workshop to us about rocks. We learnt about the timeline of different rocks and where they could be found locally, before moving on to our activities. The first activity was to identify different rocks using a key, looking at its different features and properties. The next activity we had to identify fossils in a similar way. It was so exciting getting to see and handle the different rocks and fossils!
