

Life cycles

In science, we are learning about different life cycles. Luckily, in Ash class they have been incubating some hen eggs and they hatched 2 days before our lesson on the life cycle of birds. We used this opportunity to go and meet the chicks and look at the shells they have hatched from.

We had to be very gentle and quiet, but we all got to hold one of the chicks!

