

Baby Chicks

After learning all about the life-cycle of a chicken in our science lessons, we were very grateful to Oliver's family for sourcing us our very own chicks to look after. We were only supposed to keep the chicks for a couple of days after they had hatched, but the children (and staff) couldn't say goodbye so we kept them for an additional week. We soon learned, how quickly chickens grow and how much care they need while they are young. Thanks again to Oliver and his family for sourcing the eggs and purchasing all of the equipment for us.
