

Art – Printing Project

In Art we have been looking at a printing artist called Karen Lederer. The children have had a go at doing some timed drawings of buildings, creating their own repeat patterns and designing their own printing block taking inspiration from the New York skyline. They will have a go at printing their own design using a polystyrene tile to create a repeat pattern. I can't wait to see the finished prints!

